Property Description

In the heart of the lovely Ségala countryside, on the top of a hill with commanding views, stands this fine farmhouse.

A generous entrance hall and two reception rooms, each with a fireplace with log burner, make this a welcoming and comfortable home.

There are three bedrooms, plus an annex bedroom for visitors or holiday rental, and the attic space has been opened up to provide three bright and airy additional rooms.

You can move in straight away but with a little additional work (subject to the necessary official permissions) this will be a truly wonderful house.

The house stands on its own plot and has several useful outbuildings including a garage.

The gardens, with their lovely views and interesting planting, are a feature of the house, as is the enclosed courtyard, shaded by a huge ash tree and a haven of peace and cool even in the summer heat.

There is space for a pool (subject to the necessary permissions).
